AUTO STRIKE NEGOTIATIONS FAILURE

PRESIDENT OF AUTO WORKERS DECLARES NEGOTIATIONS OFF

ONLY BRIEF MEETING WORKERS AND GENERAL MOTORS HEADS HELD

By The Associated Press.

DETROIT, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers of America, announced today, after a brief meeting with high General Motors officials, that "the conference is off."

Martin made his statement as he and five associates left the conference room in the General Motors building where negotiations to end widespread strikes were to have opened at 11 a. m.

The General motors executives designated as conferees in the negotiations, headed by William S. Knudsen, executive vice-president were in the room only five minutes. Knudsen and his associates, John Thomas Smith, general counsel, and Donaldson Brown, chairman of the finance committee, refused to comment when they emerged from the room.

Martin's terse statement indicated General Motors had refused to open negotiations because strikers continued to occupy the two Fischer body plants in Flint.

The U. A. W. A. president said "at the present moment all conferences and negotiations are off; there are no further conferences

LEGISLATORS SEEK CURB INJUNCTIONS DISTRICT JUDGES

HOUSTON AND ATHENS REPRESENTATIVES SEEK LEGISLATIVE PROBE

AUSTIN, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Another proposal for a legislative investigation popped up in the house of representatives today but got nowhere for the time being.

A resolution authorizing an inquiry into reported unwarranted granting of injunctions by district judges, sponsored by Reps. Frank E. Mann of Houston and Jap Lucas of Athens, was tabled overwhelmingly.

Lucas asserted peace officers in his district had been hampered by injunctions in their drives against liquor dives and gambling joints.

Resolutions by Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio and Rep. Harry N. Graves of Georgetown, seeking an investigation into expenditures by the Texas Gulf Sulphur Company for "public relations," were sent to committees for study.

Many more bills were introduced in both houses, while a joint committee pushed plans for the inauguration tomorrow of Gov. Allred and Lieut.-Gov. Walter F. Woodul.

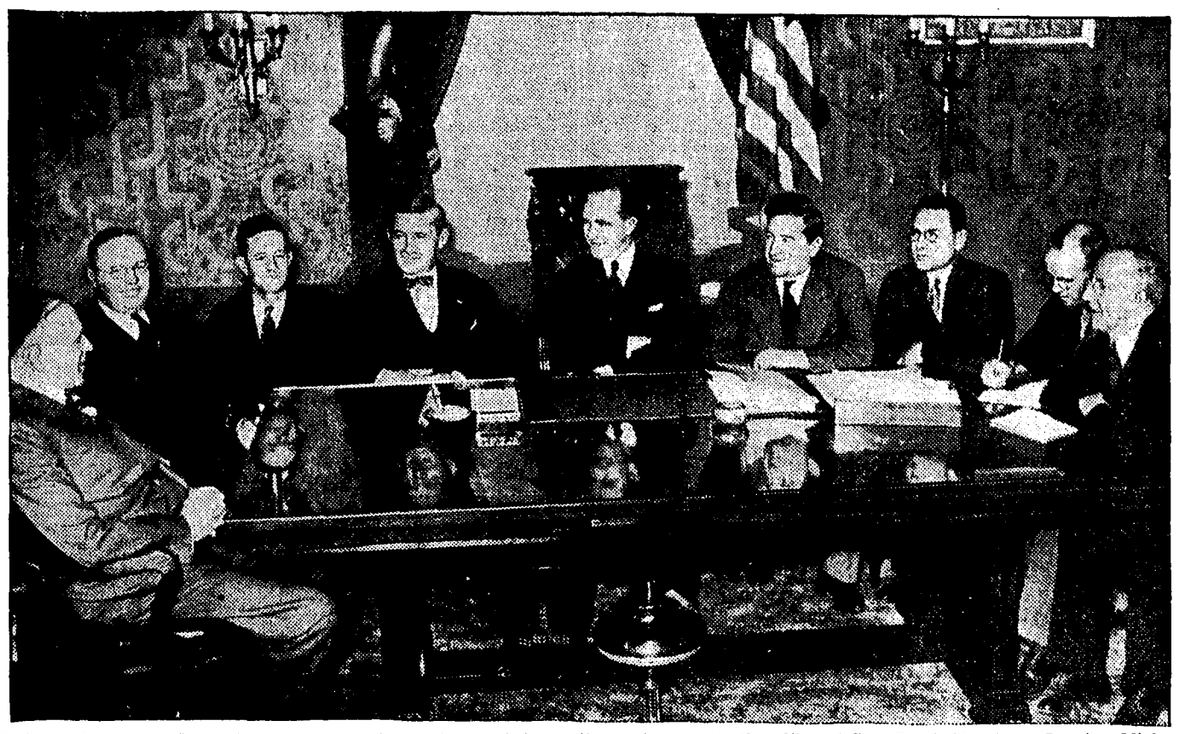

A constitutional amendment submitted by Sen. L. J. Sulak of LaGrange would authorize a two per cent sales tax for old age pensions. A house bill proposed large increases on all natural resources.

Allred announced his inaugural message would be "very brief" and he probably would not send up a second message further outlining a program of legislation until next week. His first message was delivered last week.

Tentative plans were to hold

STRIKE PEACE NEGOTIATIONS PLANNED BY THESE MEN FAILED

Union and labor officials hailed the results of a conference between these nine men in the office of Gov. Frank Murphy at Lansing, Mich., as tinged with historic possibilities after they had reached an agreement for negotiations for permanent settlement of "sit-down" strikes in General Motors plants. Left to right: Donaldson Brown, General Motors finance chairman; John Thomas Smith, General Motors counsel; John E. O'Connor, Federal labor conciliator; William S. Knudsen, executive vice president of General Motors; Gov. Frank Murphy; James F. Dewey, labor conciliator; Homer Martin, president of the Automobile Workers Union; Wyndham Mortimer, union vice president; John Brophy, director committee for industrial organization. The negotiations came to a sudden end Monday without results and auto workers officials declared the peace talks off. (Associated Press Photo)

TURBULENT RIVERS REVIVED FEARS OF WIDESPREAD FLOODS

HUNDREDS OF MEN WORK TO STRENGTHEN WEAKENED LEVEES MONDAY

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Rivers rose dangerously in the valleys of the east and central west today, fed by rains that threatened new damage to the flood territory.

Cincinnati suffered its 31st flood in 54 years, with the Ohio River rising a quarter of an inch an hour. If heavy rains continued, meteorologists said, the Ohio would be six or seven feet above flood stage by mid-week.

River bank residents in environs of Pittsburgh were warned that heavy rains of the last 72 hours would probably carry streams beyond flood levels tomorrow.

This territory, which suffered a devastating inundation last year, watched for fair skies and colder weather to halt the advance of the waters.

At Johnstown, Pa., where floods last March caused $30,000,000 damage, the river was well below flood and slight rainfall was not a menace.

Major streams in Southern Illinois started upward. The Wabash was 8.6 feet above the flood mark at Mt. Carmel and more than 100 families were estimated forced from their homes in the bottomlands. Two deaths were reported.

South Is Menaced

Other tributaries of the Mississippi menaced the south. In Tennessee the Cumberland rose six inches an hour, passing the technical flood stage at Nashville.

AUTOMOBILE HITS CONCRETE RAILING MAN AND WOMAN DIE

FIRST FATAL MOTOR ACCIDENT NAVARRO COUNTY SINCE JANUARY 1

Two persons were killed and another was seriously injured Monday morning at 2 o'clock when their car crashed into the concrete railing of the Chambers creek bridge on Highway 31 several miles east of Corsicana. This was the first fatal automobile accident in Navarro county since January 1.

The dead:

Edna Slagle, 21, Athens.

Ernest L. Douthet, 28, Palestine.

Elbert Slagle, Athens, brother of the fatally injured woman, is in the P. and S. Hospital in a serious condition with both legs broken and other injuries.

Norman Neal, also of Palestine, the other occupant of the car, escaped without injury.

O. T. Behrens and W. B. Dickson, state highway patrolmen here, answered the call and conducted an investigation into incidents [illegible] the crash.

It [illegible]d, according to the officers, that the heavy fog in the creek bottom apparently caused Douthet, driver and owner of the car, to allow the left wheels of the automobile to run off the pavement just west of the bridge approach. The soft

PRESIDENT TO END HIS FIRST TERM IN HOLE TWO TO ONE

TREASURY LEDGERS SHOW TWO DOLLARS SPENT FOR EVERY DOLLAR TAKEN IN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(AP)—President Roosevelt will wind up his first term Wednesday with treasury ledgers showing $2 spent for each $1 taken in and with fiscal policies pointed conditionally toward a balance between income and outgo.

What Uncle Sam's books may show when Mr. Roosevelt ends his second administration in 1941 is clouded by the uncertain elements of future relief needs, national defense policies and the inflow of tax revenues.

In his budget message, however, the chief executive expressed hope receipts may level up with expenditures, exclusive of debt retirement, in the next fiscal year and that the treasury may begin reducing the public debt in 1939.

Since Mr. Roosevelt took office the government has spent $28,925,000,000 and collected $14,217,000,000. The resulting $14,708,000,000

DEATH AND TAXES HEADED PROGRAMS FOR LEGISLATURES

CAPITAL PUNISHMENTS OCCUPY LAWMAKERS SEVEN STATES TODAY

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Death and taxes headed the agenda as state legislatures resumed their 1937 sessions today.

Capital punishment occupied the lawmakers of seven states, with five considering the penalty of death for kidnapers.

A Utah bill proposed to make death mendatory in cases of kidnaping, and one in Tennessee would make the crime punishable by public hanging. The North Carolina legislature received a proposed constitutional amend-

PRISONERS STAGED RIOT IN ONTARIO REFORMATORY FOR NINE HOURS

GUELPH, Ont., Jan. 18.—(Canadian Press)—Hungry, mud-plastered youths who fled the big Ontario reformatory during a nine hour riot straggled back today under a "no prosecution" pledge from the Ontario government.

Thirty-five of the more than 700 who fought their guards in the wrecked and burning prison for nine hours Sunday remained at large, but many were expected to return of their own accord.

Ten clay-caked inmates who raced over rainsoaked fields last night already were in Guelph police cells. Others of the estimated 100 to 150 who got away last night were captured on the reformatory ground or in Guelph.

An army of carpenters, plumbers, and electricians invaded the big prison today to repair the damage. Everything was quiet and officials insisted the riot was "spontaneous."

Today, however, breakfast at the reformatory was served in cells.

Acting Premier Harry Nixon, who promised the missing prisoners they would receive no additional penalty aside from their short sentences if they gave up immediately, declared:

"The young fellows decided to put on a show."

ALSO CONFERRED WITH THE LOCAL ODD FELLOW LEADERS ON SESSIONS HERE

H. L. Carpenter, Greenville attorney, Grand Master of the Texas Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., was a visitor at the I. O. O. F. Home here during the week-end.

Grand Master Carpenter was here en route to South Texas to advertise and boost the annual sessions of the Texas Grand Lodge and the Rebekah Assembly to be held in Corsicana March 13, 14, 15, 16 and stated he would visit lodges at Houston, Bay City, Victoria, San Antonio and other points.

"I believe that there will be the largest attendance here for the sessions of the Grand Lodge and Rebekah Assembly in years if the members are assured of sufficient accommodations," the Grand Master pointed out.

Grand Master Carpenter conferred with Ted B. Ferguson, chairmen of the housing committee of the local general arrangements committee; Paul Moore, noble grand of Corsicana Lodge No. 63, along with C. INDIANA SENATOR AND ROOSEVELT TALK ON SUPREME COURT

PRESIDENT TO PLAN LEGISLATION; REPUBLICAN ATTACKS ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Senator Minton (D-Ind) said after a White House conference today that President Roosevelt would hold a conference soon on possible legislation dealing with the supreme court.

The Indianan said he had discussed generally the question of the court with the President but was not at liberty to disclose details.

He said he himself would favor a bill requiring at least seven of the nine members of the court to concur before an act of congress could be held invalid.

"That is one way we can obtain legislation we have been seeking," Minton remarked.

"Everything we have been fighting to get around today was the result of five-to-four or six-to-three decisions."

In his annual message to congress Mr. Roosevelt gave no hint of favoring any legislation to curb the powers of the highest tribunal but asserted the courts must do their part in interpreting laws with an enlightened view.

In the house today, Representative Luce (R-Mass) asserted it

BELIEVED "BREAK" IN MATTSON KIDNAP SEARCH OCCURRED

FEDERAL AGENTS REPORTED AS CONCENTRATING IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Harold Nathan, the leader in the search for the kidnaper-slayer of Charles Mattson, conferred today with federal agents here but was silent as to the purpose of his sudden trip to Los Angeles.

Nathan went by train from Tacoma, Wash., to Portland, Ore., and then took an airplane to Los Angeles. Whether this presaged a "break" in the brutal killing of the 10-year-old Tacoma boy officers of the federal bureau of investigation declined to speculate

"Mr. Nathan is here, but he is not here on the Mattson case," was the flat assertion of J. H. Hanson, agent-in-charge of the Los Angeles F. B. I. office.

Hanson said the "usual check" is being made on the fingerprints and description of two men picked up by officers here for questioning in connection with the kidnaping.

Hanson declined comment on a report that the identity of the kidnaper was known to federal agents by comparison of fingerprints found at Tacoma.

Two men were held for questioning. One, Joseph Mitchell, 35, a vagrant, was in the Culver City jail after refusing to answer cer-

The rejections followed the first meeting between all the employer groups and the International Longshoremen's Association district executive council, headed by Harry Bridges, since the strike began 81 days ago.

PEACEMAKERS STILL STRUGGLING TO HOLD WAR WITHIN SPAIN

BATTLE RAGES FROM MADRID TO SEA BETWEEN TWO SPANISH FACTIONS

(By The Associated Press)

Peacemakers struggled in new but still trying circumstances to keep Spain's civil war isolated today—the half year point of conflict.

Battle between fascist insurgents and a socialist government raged on, from Madrid to the Mediterranean's two coasts.

The international non-intervention committee considered a revived scheme to blockade Spain with neutral shore observers and a six-power warship patrol of peace.

But Soviet Russia formally opposed any non-intervention action that was not collective and Germany and Italy, on the other side, gave the same impression by their silence.

Italy, who with Germany has volunteers fighting for the Spanish fascists showed considerable

ROOSEVELT PHYSICALLY STRONG AFTER FOUR TRYING YEARS IN WHITE HOUSE PHYSICIAN SAYS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Four trying years in the White House have left President Roosevelt physically as strong as when he first entered it.

"Without question the President's physical condition is excellent," Captain Ross T. McIntyre, his naval physician, said today.

"Outside of the fact he is four years older, there is not a thing to worry about."

Except for a little more whiteness at the temples, McIntyre said, what little change has occurred has been for the better. He weighs 185 pounds, several pounds less than he did in 1933.

Two weeks of sailing his own schooner around Nova Scotia and 28 days of exposure to sea air and sun bathing on a trip to South America, the doctor added, not only gave Mr. Roosevelt a healthy tan and rested him from the strength-taxing campaign, but "toned up" his muscles and hardened him.

Such vacations as these, with a little fishing on the side, were called important factors in keeping the Chief Executive in good trim and in a happy frame of mind, but McIntyre contended a rigid routine of exercise is largely responsible for his present condition.

"Throughout the past four years," McIntyre said, "the president has carried out muscle exercise in a systematic fashion and naturally he has benefitted by it."

GREAT BRITAIN IS BELIEVED PREPARED SETTLE WAR DEBTS

VISIT OF TWO BRITISH FINANCIAL EXPERTS MAKES BELIEF STRONGER

By R. H. HIPPELHEUSER

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(AP)—With war debts entwined in the broader question of trade and international monetary stabilization, it is believed in well-informed circles the British government is prepared to make a settlement on its debt to the United States.

This belief, prevalent for some weeks, has gained strength with the visit of two British officials, Walter Runciman, president of the British Board of Trade, and Sir Otto Nuemeyer, director and financial expert of the Bank of England. Runciman will arrive tomorrow on the liner Caledonia. Sir Otto is en route.

It was further believed likely that, if a settlement is made by England, France would quickly follow.

As payment dates have passed with default after default — the

Texas Winter Vegetable Area Conditions Good

AUSTIN, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The department of agriculture reported today growing conditions were favorable for vegetable crops in South Texas.

A moisture deficiency in the coastal bend section was relieved in mid-December and there was much late planting, the department reported. Most sections had ample moisture for crops to continue to make progress for some time.

The report said all truck crops were moving and shipments should increase materially in January. The lower valley was preparing for spring plantings.

Winter vegetable producing areas escaped damage in the cold wave of January 6-11.

There were 58,600 acres of spinach reported planted, compared to 48,000 last year.

VICE PRESIDENT GARNER WILL HAVE NO PART IN INAUGURATION SOCIAL ACTIVITIES THIS WEEK

By EDDY GILMORE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Vice-President Garner anchored himself today a safe distance from the inauguration's social activities.

"You can say for me," declared the plain spoken Texan, "that I have no social plans and won't have any. I'm going to bed at 9 o'clock this week, as usual."

His habitual cigar rakishly askew, he said his only concession to the inauguration would be in the sartorial line.

"Oh, yes," he said, "I'll have to wear those fancy pants and one of those coats. There's no way out of that, I suppose. The occasion demands them."

At the mention by a visitor of an inaugural ball, the Vice-President—who has an avowed dislike for such functions—started.

"They're not having a ball, are they?"

Assured the ball had been abandoned because it would come too close to the President's birthday ball on Jan. 30, Garner sighed.

"Well," he comeimnted, "that's something to be thankful for."

Asked if he had anything to do with pointing out the closeness of the two occasions, he shot a puff of blue smoke ceilingward and gave a warm, knowing look.

"I won't answer that," he said. "I won't answer it one way or another and you can draw your own conclusions."

He attended the 1933 inaugural ball but more than one veteran official who knew his dislike for night life shot a sympathetic smile toward his stiff backed chair in a gilded box.

There's one other point on which Garner won't make an inaugural concession—he'll wear his customary socks.

Visitors Begin Arriving Austin For Inauguration

AUSTIN, Jan. 18. (AP) Inaugural visitors, undaunted by threatening clouds, began an influx into Austin today for the inauguration tomorrow of Gov. Allred and Lieut.-Gov. Walter Woodul of Houston.

Although skies were overcast, the weather bureau forecast no rain during the day, raising hopes the executives would be administered their oaths in front of the capitol.

Should rain develop tomorrow, ceremonies would be held in the house of representatives chamber.

Estimates were that 15,000 Texans would attend the ceremonies, to be followed by the inaugural ball in Gregory gymnasium of the University of Texas and two hotel dances.

Hotel space was reserved weeks ago and Austin homes were being opened to visitors. A statewide gathering of sportsmen for a discussion of legislative matters

RECORD CROWD PREDICTED AS ROOSEVELT TAKES OATH OFFICE FOR SECOND TERM WEDNESDAY

By EDWARD J. DUFFY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Inauguration officials, their preparations complete, predicted today a record crowd of 250,000 would cheer President Roosevelt Wednesday at the start fo his second administration.

While he worked unconcernedly at his desk, expectations of an historic inaugural address set the already teeming capital atingle.

Administration leaders hinted there was more than met the eye in selection of "the Hermitage" Andrew Jackson's Tennessee home, as a model for the reviewing stand in front of the White House.

Some believed the President would call his re-election majority in effect a victory for principles transcending party lines, such as did "Old Hickory" when diverse elements in 1829 were brought together in the present democratic party.

"The program will be one of Jacksonian simplicity," said Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, chairman of the inaugural committee.

With downtown Washington dressed up in flags and bunting and every hotel booked to capacity, the city looked to the weather bureau for assurances of a good day.

The forecast was for light rain today and tomorrow, probably ending in time to increase the crowds from nearby points.

Admiral Grayson said most of the visitors would be "just folks"

RIVAL SMUGGLERS BELIEVED CAUSE OF TRAIN HOLOCAUST

MORE THAN ONE HUNDRED BURNED DEATH ON SPEEDING CHINESE TRAIN

CANTON, China, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Unconfirmed but widely accepted reports today attributed Sunday's holocaust aboard a speeding Chinese express train to a feud between rival gangs of smugglers.

More than 100 persons were believed killed in the fire and today rescue workers searched along 15 miles of track for the bodies of panicky victims who threw themselves from the blazing Hong Kong-Canton express while it still was in rapid motion.

The new reports said two rival smuggling gangs were aboard the train, with considerable amounts of unidentified contraband.

They began fighting on the speeding train and one gang set fire to the other's contraband, it was reported. The fire, fanned by the speed of the train, [illegible] leaped quickly through the [illegible]

FAR VENTURED LIFE THEME FOR SERMON AT THIRD AVENUE

"The Far Ventured Life" was the theme of the sermon the Rev. Ewing McPhail brought to the congregation of the Third Avenue Presbyterian church Sunday morning. He took the words of Jotham, "My Father Ventured His Life Far," for his theme saying these words of Jotham is a son's tribute to his noble father Gideon. He made a plea for men of Gideon's type, men who would venture all for God and His Kingdom.

There was a good attendance at both the Sunday school and church service.

A new Sunday school class was organized among the young people. Prof. Pete Allen was elected teacher and Mrs. Brooks Allen class secretary.

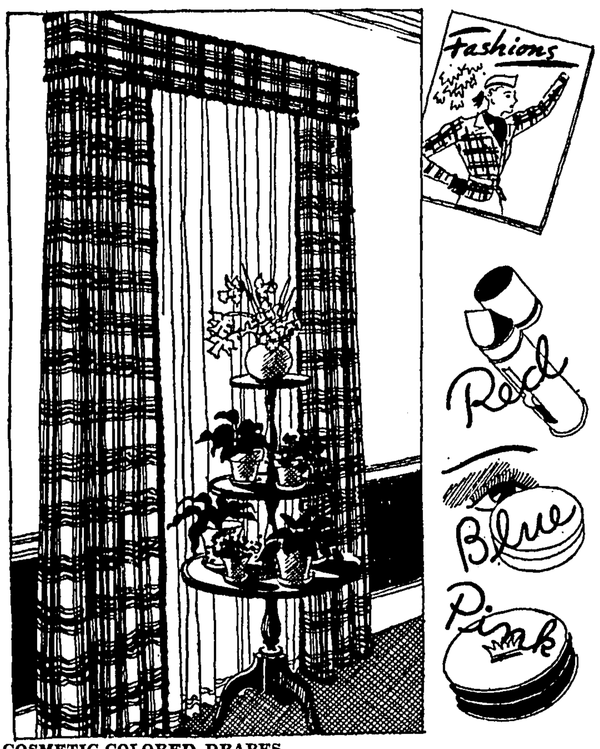

The pastor announced an important meeting of the session on Monday evening at 7:30.

Moving pictures depicting the work of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. will be shown this coming Wednesday at 7:30. Rev. Baker of Waxahachie will show the pictures.

WELL-DRESSED HOME

MATCH YOUR PERSONALITY WHEN DECORATING HOME

COSMETIC-COLORED DRAPES

Beauty-parlor tints and dress fabrics are the latest in interior decorations designed to mirror your character and personality.

By MARY DAVIS GILLIES
Prepared by McCall's Magazine For The Daily Sun.

Does your living room subtly express your personality? Is the color scheme becoming to you? And, what's more—are the walls properly matched to your face powder tints?

It's only a few short years ago that we learned the art of modern make-up and how to harmonize it with our clothes. And now our homes must be in harmony, too. Dresses, complexions and houses have no secrets from each other.

Your personal face powder—the latest wall colors are borrowed from it, flesh and tawny-peach. As in the face, wall colors have gradations; borders are bands of deeper tone. Lipstick reds and eye-shadow blues and greens are delightful accents for flesh-hued walls.

Decorations and dress designers have become very generous friends. Dressmakers are gaily using chintz for evening dresses and upholstery fringe for suits. For a good many years we've raided cotton goods departments for calicos, dimities and seersuckers for draperies, but now we are going after wools and silks—and even buttons, belts and other accessories are not safe.

Smart window treatments follow the dictates of Paris. Silk jersey, high style for evening, is correct for draperies and tailored windows are using dress wools with large wooden buttons and braid loops.

The search is world-wide. You can have draperies of Scotch plaid with green cotton fringe over curtains of handkerchief linen—the plaid might even be the family tartan. Or you can be Tyrolean with a lively peasant cotton print at your kitchen windows.

If the family is a little giddy, you can dress up your windows like musical comedy soldiers, with tassels up and down the draperies and feather cockades on the valance boards.

Dietz Bridal Pair Visited In Dallas

DALLAS, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Howard Dietz, the motion picture executive who married the former Mrs. Tanis Guiness Montague in Juarez, Mexico, two days ago, boarded an eastbound plane with his bride this morning for New York.

Delayed by bad flying weather to the east, they spent the night here and resumed their trip on American airways at 8 a. m.

GAIN SHOWN SUNDAY IN ELEVENTH AVENUE METHODIST S. S.

Despite the weather conditions of late the attendance at the Sunday school at the Eleventh Avenue Methodist gained considerably over that of the Sunday before, even though it is not up to par.

At the morning preaching hour Mrs. Bill Bingham and Mrs. Claude Crowley rendered a beautiful duet, "Jesus Paid It All."

Rev. J. F. Adams, pastor, spoke at the morning hour on "A New Creation." This proved to be an urgent message that was well received by all

The leaguers were led by William McPherson in a discussion on ways to hold up the league attendance.

Again at the evening worship hour Mrs. Bingham and Mrs. Crowley sung a beautiful duet.

Rev. Mr. Adams' evening message was taken from the thought, "Can our civilization live with lawlessness as it is?" This was indeed a thought-reviving message and it indeed proved to be one of present time

The board of stewards will meet tonight (Monday) in their regular bi-monthly session. Wednesday night is regular prayer meeting night. Everyone is extended an invitation to attend.

...AS GRAND LODGE, REBEKAH ASSEMBLY, IOOF TO MEET HERE

TENTATIVE BUDGET $2,000 SET TO MEET INCIDENTAL EXPENSES

A tentative budget for $2,000 for expenses incident to the staging of the sessions of the Texas Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., and the Rebekah Assembly of Texas in Corsicana, March 14-15-16, was set at a meeting held at the city hall Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Local officials have been advised by high officials of both branches of the I. O. O. F. that there will be 4,000 or more delegates and visitors here on that occasion.

C. B. Couch, superintendent of the Home, stated that from his conversations with officials and reports reaching him from various sections of the state, the largest attendance at the Grand Lodge and Rebekah Assembly annual sessions for the past ten years would be on hand here.

One of the main features for a huge attendance is the fact that the I. O. O. F. Widow's and Orphan's Home is located here. Hundreds of members of the Order have never visited the Home and this will be an excellent occasion.

Finance Committee.

The money necessary to defray the expenses of the lodge sessions here will be raised by the finance committee headed by F. C. Paul, chairman. Other members of the finance committee appointed by General Arrangements Committee Chairman A. F. Mitchell and Chairman Paul are H. D. Johnson, Will Thompson, J. N. Garitty, N. Suttie Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Seelig, Lowry Martin and John Sam Haslam. A meeting of the finance committee will be called by Chairman Paul within the near future.

Various rount-table discussions relative to details and features of the respective work and needs were held with the chairman and the general arrangements committee Thursday afternoon.

Chairman Ed M. Polk, Sr., of the meeting places for the sessions announced the locations for the various meetings had been approved.

The conventions will open with memorial services Sunday night, March 14, according to tentative plans, subject to approval of the state officials. The Rebekah memorial exercises will be held at the First Baptist church while those of the Grand Lodge will be at the First Methodist church.

Reception Is Planned.

A reception is planned for those arriving early at the I. O. O. F. Home Saturday night, March 13.

Open house will be maintained by Home Rebekah Lodge 128 at the I. O. O. F. Hall, corner North Beaton street and West Third avenue, all day Sunday, March 14.

The formal opening exercises for both the Rebekahs and Odd Fellows will be held at the First Baptist church auditorium Monday morning at 10 o'clock. After a short local program, the business sessions will get under way.

Following are the sites announced by Chairman Polk for the two organizations after the welcoming program has been given:

Monday Morning, March 15.
Grand Lodge at First Methodist church.
Rebekahs, First Baptist church.

Monday Afternoon, March 15.
Grand Lodge, First Methodist church.
Rebekahs, First Baptist church.

Monday Night, March 15.

Grand Lodge, First Methodist church.

The same locations will be available Tuesday night if the business sessions have not been concluded.

The I. O. O. F. competitive drills will be staged at the I. O. O. F. Lodge Hall.

Paul Moore, member of general arrangements committee and noble grand of Corsicana Lodge No. 63, I. O. O. F., presided at Friday afternoon's meting as General Chairman A F. Mitchell was absent from the city. Others present included Ed M. Polk, Sr., Lowry Martin, Mrs. R. M. Whitten, Mrs. A. E. Haslam, Mrs. Belle Elkins, W. P. Brown, Festus A. Pierce, C B. JONES ADVOCATES FEDERAL AID FOR HOME OWNERSHIP

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Chairman Marvin Jones (D-Tex) of the house agricultural committee said today the government could "take no finer step" than to make ownership of small homes possible and formulate policies to make such homes secure.

Discussing the farm tenant problem in a radio address, Jones said a solution could not be reached by "the waving of a magic wand or the expressing of a wish."

"As a starting basis, two things must be accomplished," he said. "First, it must be made financially profitable to own a small home. Second, a way must be found to finance the purchase of small homes by the owner-operators on long time payments at low interest rates."

One of the first steps in this campaign, he said, is maintenance of a fair price of farm products. The undue share of taxes small farms bear should be removed, he added, and local committees should assist in evolving a new program, including land purchases.

Supreme Court Defers Decision Important Cases

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The Supreme Court postponed today at least until February 1 a ruling on constitutionality on the Washington law establishing minimum wages for women.

Also deferred was a decision on whether the 1933 resolution prohibiting payment of obligations in gold applied to bullion as well as to coin.

The justices met for only a few minutes and then adjourned for two weeks without announcing a single decision. They acted on a few petitions for review of decisions by lower courts.

tain questions. He was found carrying a canvas knapsack in which was a boy's sweater and several newspapers detailing the kidnap-slaying.

Another man was reported to have been seized by federal agents and subjected to questioning in a jail of a suburban community. He was taken in custody at Campton.

Identification of the suspected kidnaper-slayer, the authoritative source said, establishes him as an ex-convict paroled from prison, who recently was in the Pacific Northwest and who returned to Southern California several days ago.

G-Men Take New Trail.

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 18.—(AP)—Operatives of the federal bureau of investigation took a new trail in Los Angeles today in their unrelenting search for the kidnap killers of 10-year old Charles Mattson.

Harold Nathan, assistant chief of the bureau, and director of the serach, left Tacoma suddenly Saturday for an unannounced destination. Earl Connelly, his assistant, said "the trip has nothing to do with the case." Los Angeles sources, however, reported a mobilization of investigators there, including Nathan.

At the end of a solid week of searching officers held no prisoners in this area seriously suspected of the crime and not a single new clue had been uncovered in the Pacific Northwest in 48 hours.

At Seattle, Vachtang Tavdgulkidze, 29, and Mrs. Ruth Graham, 34, were arrested while driving an automobile with altered license plates. Police Lieutenant G. C. Vernon said they were questioned about the kidnaping "as a matter of routine" with federal agents joining in the grilling.

All those frequently mentioned as being questioned during the last week were believed virtually cleared of complicity in the crime today.

The public debt climbed $13,538,000,000 from March 4, 1933, to an all-time peak of $34,467,000,000 on January 12.

The debt is expected to rise to a projected $35,026,000,000 on June 30. If relief outlays in the 1938 (fiscal) year can be held to the suggested $1,537,123,000, the debt will remain at about this level for one year.

Mr. Roosevelt has said that if economic improvement continues at the present rate a "comparatively balanced budget" will be attained in the1939 fiscal year, including provision for retiring debt.

scheduled with General Motors."

He said he planned no further meeting with Gov. Frank Murphy, whose efforts to bring the union and the corporation into an accord apparently were set at naught by developments over the week-end.

Martin said the union would stand firm on its refusal to order stay-in strikers to leave the General Motors plants at Flint. He added no attempt would be made to return strikers to three plants which were vacated Saturday in accordance with the truce arranged by the governor.

Uncertainty Arose Over Conference

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Uncertainty arose today over whether General Motors Corporation and the United Automobile Workers of America would launch a scheduled strike-settlement parley after the union declared it would not evacuate "sit down" strikers from two plants—one of the pre-negotiation terms agreed upon.

The union suddenly cancelled plans for the men to leave the Fisher Body plants No. 1 and 2 at Flint, Mich., yesterday, accusing the large automobile-manufacturing corporation of "acts of bad faith which would destroy the purpose of the negotiations."

As one of these "acts" the union cited General Motors' promise to bargain collectively with a committee from the "Flint Alliance," which said it represented a majority of the corporation's employes in that city. The Alliance was formed to crystalize anti-strike sentiment and is headed by George E. Boysen, former Flint mayor.

The board of strategy directing the strike decided that "violation of the agreement by the corporation makes it imperative that the sit down strikers remain in the plants until the whole controversy is settled."

Whether this move by the U. A. W. A. would prevent the conference between it and General Motors, scheduled to open at 11 a. m. (EST) today, could not be determined at once. The corporation had demanded—and received in exchange for promises it made—that the union men would be out of the plants two hours before the negotiations opened.

This accord was reached last week in a joint session called by Gov. Frank Murphy in his office at Lansing. At that time strikers held five General Motors plants. Saturday afternoon they vacated three—the Cadillac and Fleetwood factories in Detroit and the Guide Lamp company at Anderson, Ind.

although 36 governors are expected. Special trains have been scheduled as far away as Texas.

The Dutch Bible in the Roosevelt family for generations will be used, unless there is rain. It will be opened, as it was four years ago, to that verse in Corinthians which says:

"Though I speak in the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal."

Vice-President Garner will break tradition by taking the oath out-of-doors instead of in the senate chamber but he declined to speak.

WAR DEBTS

British debt is now $786,000,000 in arrears, with accrued interest—the question has become not only one of debt settlement, but also is related to monetary stabilization, together with the possibility of a reciprocal trade agreement between this government and Britain.

Informed persons believed Runciman is empowered to discuss these questions with Washington officials, if not to open formally negotiations on stabilization and a trade pact. He will spend next weekend as a White House guest but President Roosevelt said his visit was personal. They are old friends.

The conclusion of a reciprocal trade pact with Britain would be regarded generally as a major accomplishment of the tariff program of Secretary of State Cordell Hull. It was felt certain by some New Yorkers close to the administration, however, this government would first insist upon a settlement of war debts.

Employers' Tax Payments Coming In Rapid Rate

AUSTIN, Jan. 16.—(AP)—R. B. Anderson, state unemployment insurance director, said today employers' tax payments were coming in at the rate of approximately $80,000 per day and would be heavier next week because the deadline is January 25.

The director again warned employers against delay in sending their tax money.

"If employers pay their tax by January 25," he said, "the total paid to the state and federal governments will be one per cent of the total 1936 payroll. But if the state levy is not paid by January 25, the employer is liable for payment of the full tax to both state and federal governments, or a total of one and nine-tenths per cent."

PRISON RIOT

at Toronto, explained there were no hardened criminals at the institution. Provincial policy, he said has been to segregate young offenders at Guelph.

One veteran guard who declined to give his name declared:

"The trouble is that this place is run more on the lines of a college than a prison. There was a time when these fellows were treated like convicts. Now we're more like nursemaids than prison guards. Maybe this will change things back again.

C. F. Neelands, deputy provincial secretary, called to the prison to investigate the outbreak, blamed it on "youthful exuberance."

The prisoners themselves said the trouble was caused by poor food and because Christmas parcels were not delivered to them. Neelands denied this.

At Toronto, Acting Premier Harry Nixon announced the missing prisoners would not be prosecuted if they surrendered immediately.

He made his announcement after Neelands had informed him 35 inmates still were at large.

Reinforcements of city and provincial police quelled the rioting among more than 700 convicts shortly before midnight.

At least three men were injured and $200,000 damage resulted. The riot broke out suddenly at noon and lasted until a tear gas bomb scattered rioters who were demolishing the prison recreation room long after nightfall. Fifteen prisoners were overcome by smoke.

Inmates touched flares to everything that would burn. They ruined the dormitories, the chapel and the hospital from which 12 patients had to be moved to safety.

What furniture was not piled up for kindling was broken into bludgeons with which infuriated bands roved in wrecking forays.

Insurrection flared when 25 men, complaining against the quantity and quality of prison food and against a ban on receiving Christmas packages, refused to eat. Dr. J. D. Heasilp, reformatory superintendent, estimated about 35 prisoners actually engaged in the pandemonium which ensued.

While some prisoners set fire to mattresses and bedding, wrecking the dormitories where most of them slept, others used a bench for a battering-ram to smash light gratings from windows. After that, escape over the roof of a one-story building and to the ground was easy.

Many prisoners fled to the spacious grounds and battled hand-to-hand with guards while crowds of citizens watched.

By midnight groups of prisoners were led peacefully to cells and locked up.

LIFE.

Usually interesting to scientists—and to ordinary people, when they understand what it's about—is the discovery of young Dr. W. M. Stanley of the Rockefeller Institute, for which he recently received a $1,000 prize. He has found that protein, the basic substance of which living bodies are made, can exist either as inert crystals or as living matter.

Working with a low form of organic life, the protein "virus" which causes the disease of "spotted leaf" on tobacco plants, he found he could produce pure protein crystals. Apparently there was no more life in them than in crystals of salt or sugar. Yet under favorable conditions of moisture, heat and so on, the crystals apparently became alive again.

If this is true, the difference between living matter and dead matter is far less than has been supposed. And this would make it easier to explain how life as we know it may have started in the first place, from a cooled world that had once been fiery liquid, and before that gas floating in space.

Even so, it is hard to think of life, by any process, appearing where there was no life before. Some will say the life must have been there all the time—in the crystal as it was afterward in living, moving, reproducing bodies. Maybe everything is alive, from atom to man, and always has been.

BUREAUCRATIC PURGE.

It is reassuring to hear that the President proposes a drastic reorganization of the federal government. That is, of the administrative machinery.

There was rather drastic action, it will be remembered, in the first year of Mr. Roosevelt's administration, in pursuance of the campaign pledge to save 25 per cent of administrative costs. Some such saving was actually accomplished for a short time, by lopping off bureaus and departments and reducing personnel and salaries. But with the turning from a deflationary to a reflationary policy, and the undertaking of many new federal services, the government organization was expanded vastly and the operating expenses increased accordingly.

No doubt many millions can be saved now by elimination of services no longer needed, by contraction of personnel, and by a general reorganization that will unite groups belonging together. This will not only save money for Uncle Sam but time for the public. Outsiders doing business at Washington have long complained of having to chase all around the city to find people and gain information that ought to be concentrated in one spot.

The task, though, takes not only expert handling but courage and perseverance. Public services and servants naturally dig in, proliferate and hang on, and there's a terrific squawking when they're pulled up by the roots. It will help much if private business, which greatly wants such reform, will give jobs to as many of the ousted people as possible.

Royalty still uses the same costumes and scenery, but the bright ones know the play-acting.

There are still many clues besides triangles in the Simpson affair.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1937, Edgar A. Guest)

OLD CRANKMIRE GETS SARCASTIC.

When Crankmire heard that Jack and Gill
Had run away, as young folks will,
He shrugged his shoulders. "Well!" said he,
"That sort of grief can't come to me."
And added, as to chat we stood,
"There's many a time I wish it could."

Just then the fathers came along
Enraged by such a grievous wrong,
And shouting, "With them both we're through!
We'll cut them off without a sou!
We'll break it up! They'll rue it yet.
No help from us they'll ever get."

"That" said old Crankmire, "I suppose
Will bring you peace and end your woes.
They're married now; the thing is done.
You gain a daughter, you a son.
But since just now you don't agree,
Their young lives ruined you would see.

"Bad as it seems I wouldn't curse
And plot and plan to make it worse.
Could such a thing occur to me,
Though disappointed I might be
I'd stick to them through thick and thin
And help and hope to see them win."

That night an operator said:
"Glance at this wire I'm now addressing."
And Crankmire chuckled as he read:
"Come home, you kids, and get our blessing."

"JUDICIAL LEGISLATION"

Now another big constitutional argument is on. Also another educational campaign. President Roosevelt's reference to the Supreme Court, in his message to Congress, sends thousands of earnest citizens to the Constitution, to find out for themselves what powers it confers on the Court, expressly or by plain implication.

That quest leads, in turn, to the searching of constitutional history. People want to know how our great charter of government originated, who worked it out, what they put into it, and why they did so; what was the Founders' own attitude to it, and what they expected future generations to do about it as conditions changed.

It involves a history of the Supreme Court, from the time of John Marshall down to the present day. Inquirers need to learn how one interpretating decisions has led to another, establishing precedents and policies on which the Court operates today.

The question of particular interest at the moment is the implied charge brought by the President, and by many other critics past and present, that our courts have sometimes gone beyond the original charter, wrongly limiting the power of Congress to enact laws and "usurping legislative power" for themselves.

We shall hear a great deal about this for a few months.

SITTING TIGHT

The employers in a "sit-down strike" are peculiarly helpless. In the old days plants would have been cleared by force, with special police or constables or state troops. That sort of thing is not done any more; public opinion doesn't support it.

Yet the strikers are trespassers. This fact is a part of our capitalistic system, in which the workers themselves, along with the stockholders and managers, mostly profess to believe. They really have no more legal right to occupy industrial plants for economic coercion than the owners of the buildings and machines would have it they were to occupy the workers' homes.

But what, if anything, can be done about it? Nobody seems to know.

If these strikes are prolonged, the government will have to step in somehow. It is better if capital and labor can come to agreement themselves, without too much delay.

We're for the President, or the Supreme Court, or Congress, or the Chamber of Commerce, or the Manufacturers' Association, or the L. I. D., or C. I. O., or any other outfit, if it can make democracy and industry both work.

Communism is a disease caused by lack of nourishment.

"Just as I was about well, too"

LIBERAL JUDGMENT.

The Supreme Court Justices themselves would probably be the last to assert that they are beyond human frailty or bias, operating in a social and political vacuum.

It is well known that several important decisions recently have been extremely close, so that sometimes the change of one vote in nine would have reversed the verdict. Judges themselves cannot feel such complete assurance in such cases as when they are unanimous or nearly so. There must sometimes be, in the minds of conscientious judges, serious doubt as to which side is right. Yet they must vote.

It may be wise and patriotic in such cases, the President seems to suggest, to consider not merely the law itself, but the state of the nation, the serious problems at issue and the apparent desires of the public, and say:

"The Constitution does not expressly forbid; the President, Congress and people seem to think this necessary, why should we stand in the nation's way?"

CHOOSING DEMOCRACY.

Communism appeared on the world's political horizon ahead of Fascism and was considered the great enemy of democracy and Americanism. When Fascism finally appeared it seemed so orderly and efficient, compared with Communism, that many Americans admired it. Lately they have been learning that these two groups have many traits in common.

Each is a dictatorship. Each permits no opposition and ruthlessly imprisons, exiles or executes those who dare to attempt it.

The clearer these facts become, the dearer becomes our own democracy, regardless of its inefficiency and blundering. Many people who formerly indulged in red-baiting are ready today to uphold the Red's right to freedom of speech, assembly and opinion. One of these, an automotive engineer and member of the American Legion, expresses it thus:

"No, it isn't a swing to the left—it's simply an assumption forced by both the right and the left. The American people can be solidified and strengthened by the crisis through which the world is passing, through being forced to a clearer realization and definition of American principles and practices."

People keep on arguing about who are the "ten greatest men." Leave it to Emerson, who said: "There is no great and no small to the soul that loveth all."

Good Portion of Ring's Narcotics Used on Horses

DALLAS, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Clyde Eastus, United States district attorney, said today a "good portion" of the narcotics handled by a huge ring uncovered here recently, had been used to "dope" racehorses.

He said he did not know definitely the ring had supplied narcotics for horses at Texas tracks but was confident some of it had been used at New Orleans.

Eastus released an indictment charging seven defendants with conspiracy and violation of the Harrison anti-narcotic laws, containing 27 counts and 30 overt acts.

Indicted were Dick Smith, Sam Civello, Joe Civello, Leon Civello, Jack Donnin, Joe Cassio and Frank Ianni. Each of the defendants is under $50,000 bond here except Ianni who, Eastus said, had been arrested at New Orleans and placed under a $10,000 bond there.

The indictment alleged that, no longer ago than Jan. 9, the defendants purchased 46,223 grains of heroin.

When arrests were made federal agents said it was the largest ring ever uncovered in the United States.

Five medical cases were assisted, the report indicated, and various cases of both transient and local persons were discussed. Miss Helm reported her organization is interested in two blind cases. A wheel-chair was reported returned to the United Charities after it had been in use for nearly five years by an invalid boy, who recently passed away.

Miss Helm reported the organization had been given numerous children's books, which are greatly appreciated by children on their rolls. She extended special thanks for money and bundles of clothing given by the local chapter D.A.R.

MOB DEMONSTRATES AGAINST NEGRO IN BATHTUB SLAYING

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The threatening cries of screaming women still rang in the ears of Major Green, 33-year-old negro, today as he awaited trial February 1 for the bathtub slaying of Mrs. Mary Robinson Case.

The wiry porter, who, authorities said, had signed a complete confession, was sullen and seemingly unmoved last night as detectives led him from Queens county court where he pleaded innocent before Judge John S. Colden.

Outside, a noisy crowd of spectators, most of them women, surged toward the negro when he appeared under heavy police guard.

"Lynch him!" the crowd cried. "He's no good! He ought to be hung! the chair's too good for you!"

Green threw up his unmanacled hand to shield himself.

They attempted to pummel him with umbrellas, sticks and pocketbooks, but most of the blows fell on the shoulders of detectives who swarmed around to elbow him unharmed to the Queens county jail 200 yards away.

The arraignment was completed only 72 hours after Mrs. Case's strangled and beaten body was found by her husband, Frank Case, 30, in an overflowing bathtub in their Jackson Heights, Queens, apartment.

FOUR WOMEN AND TWO MEN VICTIMS PIPELINE BLAST

WOMEN TRAPPED IN AUTOMOBILE; FIVE OTHER MEN SERIOUSLY BURNED

PRYOR, Okla., Jan. 15.—(AP)—Four women and two men were burned to death last night near Strang, Ok., when an oil line of the Gulf Oil and Refining company exploded while a crew of seven men was attempting to repair a leak.

Five other men were burned seriously and were brought to a hospital here.

The dead:

Mr. and Mrs. Carrie Barnett, Guthrie, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gillam, Stroud, Okla.

Mrs. John Estes, Avant, Okla.

Mrs. John Lamb, Seminole, Okla.

Injured were John Estes, Avant, foreman; Sam Leeson, Avant; Alton Romberg, Shawnee; Joe Alton, Jenks, and John Lamb, Seminole.

Reports here said the women, all of them wives of workmen, were trapped in their motor car as flames leaped up from the pipe line, enveloping their automobile.

The women had driven out to the scene of work and were preparing to return to their homes with their husbands after the work was completed.

Reports here said leaking oil became ignited from an acetylene torch being used in welding operations. Bodies of the victims were brought to a funeral home here and injured were brought to Cottage hospital here.

Lived at Gulf Station.

All the dead and injured lived at the Gulf company pump station, seven miles southwest of Strang.

The break in the line occurred about a mile and a half north of the company's pump station.

Drivers of three ambulances were dispatched to the scene as the news of the disaster reached here.

They said the automobile in which the women were trapped still was blazing when they arrived.

A truck standing nearby also was in flames. The truck was used to transport workmen to the job.

Hospital attendants said the condition of the other four workmen still in the hospital was "satisfactory."

At the Gulf station near the scene of the blast, officials said an investigation would be made.

They said first reports were that a torch being used to weld a patch on the line set fire to the oil as the line burst, scattering flaming fuel over the occupants of the car.

Cause of Break Unknown.

They said they did not know the cause of the line's bursting.

The leak in the line was discovered at about 11 o'clock yesterday morning, officials said.

An emergency crew was sent out in the afternoon to repair the break.

Mark Gist, Seminole, one of the workmen, who received a slight burn on the right hand, gave the first eye-witness account of the disaster.

"It all happened so quickly," he said, "like a flash of lightning, that no one knew exactly what happened.

"One minute those women ware sitting in the automobile alive and talking.

"In the next they were a mass of flames.

"There was no move, no outcry. Death was instantaneous.

"The bodies were burned so badly that when they were taken from the wreckage they bore little resemblance to human form. They were cremated.

"The car itself looked like it had been thrust into a blast furnace. There was nothing but a melted mass of metal.

"One of the women had a little dog in the car with her. It burned up too."

SEEKING TO LINK INDUSTRIAL CONCERN WITH FLOGGING CASE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The senate civil liberties committee sought today to forge new links, including one based on a private telephone number, between the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railway company and the flogging of Joseph S. Gelders, former University of Alabama instructor.

After testimony that Walter J. Hanna, identified by Gelders as one of the floggers, used the Birmingham telephone number "3-2644." Sen. La Follette (Pro-Wis) chairman, laid before the committee a letter from the telephone company that the number was an unlisted one for a phone in the offices of the company.

A surprise witness, Yelverton Cowherd, Birmingham attorney, testified today he had constant communication with Hanna through the telephone number listed as belonging to the Coal and Iron company.

Grover Cleveland Giles, chief of detectives at Birmingham, also testified that Birmingham's chief of police, Hollums, after a conversation with a representative of the company during the flogging investigation, told him "whippings, I believe, are over in this district."

Prosecutor Cold.

Cowherd followed to the stand J. W McClung, a state police investigator, who declared yesterday evidence presented in the flogging of Joseph S. Gelders, former Alabama University professor, was sufficient for grand jury action.

McClung, who said he investigated the case for the governor, declared the grand jury did not act because the prosecuting officer "kept throwing cold water on the case."

He said the chief reason, however, was that "the T. C. I" (The coal and iron company) owned "about fifteen-sixteenths of the country around there."

Any decision against Captain Walter J. Hanna, a defendant in the flogging case, he said, "might bring a civil suit that would antagonize the T. C. I."

Asked why the company would be involved by action against Hanna, McClung replied:

"The best information we can get is that he's employed by them as a secret investigator working on communist and labor and that sort of stuff."

Secretary Wallace Tells How Crop Insurance Proposes To Help Farmer Beat The Weather

THE WHEAT FARMER - - - - - is the first concern of a new proposal to insure crops, because of his interest in the plan and because of the desirability of gaining experience on one crop before putting it into general effect.

IN LEAN YEARS - - - - - the farmer would get cash or kind fro mreserves of wheat stored up in good years, according to the proposal advanced for congress' consideration by a committee headed by Henry A. Wallace.

WHEN CROPS ARE GOOD - - - - - the farmer would pay insurance premiums at rates varying according to the risk. Participation, entirely voluntary, would insure a yield up to perhaps 75 per cent of an average crop.

In September President Roosevelt appointed Secretary Wallace chairman of a committee to prepare a plan of crop insurance. This committee has made its report which will receive consideration by congress this year. In this article, prepared at the request of The AP Feature Service, Secretary Wallace discusses the background of this important subject.

By HENRY A. WALLACE
Secretary of Agriculture

If houses never burned there would be no need for fire insurance. If acres planted to crops produced consistently each year there would be no need for crop insurance.

But we know that droughts, floods, hail, and other manifestations of bad weather occur somewhere every year—and in recent years have affected numerous farms over vast areas. The result is that the question, "What will the harvest be?" is a very real one with farmers throughout each producing season.

Henry A. Wallace

We have seen production of many crops swing from heavy surpluses with prices at starvation levels to small output with prices relatively high. I believe that most of us have been impressed by these sharp swings in the farm production pendulum and we have wondered why something was not done to balance off the bad years with the good years.

Crop insurance has been brought forward as a device to supply a combination of insurance with storage of commodity reserves so as to provide greater security for farm producers and city consumers, particularly in the case of those crops where the swings in production are most marked.

Would Start With Wheat.

Crop failures, either resulting from drought or other catastrophes, mean that people will suffer; that often they are in the most acute need and that the government must grant assistance to tide them over. The expenditures of the government for carrying on this function either through feed loans, seed loans, relief, or by other methods, have become very high.

The President's committee gave very careful study to the whole subject of crop insurance. It conferred with farmers, representatives of state, regional, and national farm organizations, with insurance experts and with representatives of the warehousing industry. It recommended that the government inaugurate a crop insurance program, beginning only with wheat.

Wheat producers have shown the most interest of any group of producers. They have expressed themselves most vigorously in favor of such a program. I believe there is something to be gained by beginning with only one commodity. It will be well to gain some practical experience with the workings of a crop insurance program before the program is applied to other crops.

Reserve For Lean Years.

I believe that there is a real possibility that a decade or two hence crop insurance together with devices to provide an "ever normal granary" of our major food and fiber crops will be in general use in the United States. Other progressive nations will doubtless also adopt some such method to provide their producers with greater security and their consumers with assurance of adequate reserves.

In view of past failures where relatively small attempts were made by private companies to insure prices as well as yields, the committee recommended only yield insurance. In other words, the plan would provide farmers with an opportunity to insure against low yields due to bad weather but it would not offer insurance against price changes. Under this plan the payment of both premiums and losses should be in kind or cash equivalent.

It would have the effect of storing up reserves of wheat in years of large crops and releasing them in years of smaller crops. This would tend to reduce the fluctuations in the market supply and the fluctuations in the price of wheat. It would provide the country assurance that in case of severe crop failure the reserve of wheat would be on hand.

Insurance On Average Yield.

Costs of storing grain should be borne by the government because the program would be of advantage to the public generally. Overhead administration costs of crop insurance should also be borne by the government for the same reason while local costs plus the actual costs of indemnifying crop losses should be borne by farmers.

Local administration, the committee recommended, should be in the hands of county and local committees established for administration of the soil conserva-Galley 2— Secretary Wallace ..i tion and domestic allotment acts. These committees have demonstrated real ability.

The amount of insurance on any farm would be determined by the average yield on that farm over a period of the last six years. The farmer applying for the insurance—and such application would be entirely voluntary—would be insured a yield up to perhaps 75 per cent of the average yield.

If his yield during the year when he was insured should be less than the coverage specified in his policy, he would be paid the difference between what he actually produced and the amount for which he was insured. He would be paid in kind or in cash. His losses might be paid by granting the farmer a warehouse certificate covering stored grain due him which he could sell as he saw fit. But he would bear any storage costs after the time set for settlement. That would be fair.

Varied Risks Figured.

We recommended that the premium rate should be determined on the basis of two factors—the loss experience on the individual farm insured and the loss experience of the county or area. As proposed the plan would not transfer the losses of incompetent or careless farmers to the more competent and industrious farmers.

Farmers on good land would not be required to pay the losses of farmers on poor land. Wheat areas of high and regular production would not have to pay the losses of areas of low and uncertain production.

Costs of crop insurance for wheat would vary considerably as the loss experience varies considerably over the nation. Where risks were highest costs would be highest. Where rates would appear to be prohibitive the risk would appear to be so high as hardly to justify the use of the land for the production of wheat. Such land might better be devoted to some other use, perhaps permanently retired from crop production.

Stability Of Prices.

The recommended plan will permit farmers to pay premiums in years of large crops. This would be a sensible arrangement. By paying the premiums in years of plentiful production, an additional outlet for surplus wheat would be furnished, thus contributing to greater stability of prices in those years. This would tend to reduce fluctuations in prices and income.

The program of crop insuran : recommended in this report is not conceived of as a substitute for any farm program now being administered by the department of agriculture. It would be supplementary to other programs. It is not intended to meet problems of production adjustment and soil conservation but rather to meet the very serious problems arising from fluctuations in production. It is intended to help gain for farmers a basis for obtaining protection against risks even as we have seen protection for risks in industry and other zones of activity built up one by one.

How Crop Insurance Would Work

WASHINGTON (AP).—Here are salient points in Secretary Wallace's crop insurance proposal:

1. The program would begin with wheat only.
2. In good years, farmers would pay insurance premiums in cash or wheat.
3. In bad years, they would get back cash or wheat.
4. They would be insured a crop up to perhaps 75 per cent of an average yield.
5. Their insurance rates would vary according to the risks their land held.
6. Participation in the plan would be on a purely voluntary basis.

RADIO AND MOVING PICTURES HAVE BROUGHT PRESIDENTIAL INAUGURATION CLOSE TO ALL

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Millions will listen when President Roosevelt broadcasts his inaugural address Wednesday. In the following story, fifth of a series, the Washington staff of The Associated Press tells which president made the first such broadcasts and reviews some other historic inaugural "firsts.")

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Always an event of deep national significance, the inauguration of a president has becoame in recent years a spectacle of immediate national interest.

Many more millions of people will hear and see the high spots of President Roosevelt's induction into office next Wednesday than could possibly crowd into the streets about Capitol Hill or finding standing room on the sidewalks of historic Pennsylvania avenue.

The radio and moving pictures have been chiefly instrumental in making this possible. Whereas a small handful of early Americans witnessed Washington's inauguration a whole nation will listen when Roosevelt makes his inaugural address and soon afterward will see movie records of the event in theaters.

Harding was the first president to broadcast his inaugural. He was also the first to ride to the capital in an automobile. Beside the incoming president was the tragic figure of Woodrow Wilson, a sick, tired man who had to be lifted into the car for his last official trip to the capitol.

Polk's inauguration in 1845 opened an epoch by reason of an obscure professor, S. F. B. Morse, who sat on the president's platform, jiggling a little key with his fingers. Thus was telegraphed the first account of an inauguration.

McKiney's address in 1897 seems to have been the first heard by absentee ears. After his speech an amusement hall here played gramaphone recordings at 5 cents a listen. The inaugural voices of most, if not all, sebsequent presidents have been similarly recorded for posterity.

Lincoln was the first president photographed during his address.

THOUSANDS OF NEW YORKERS BALKED AT TRYING TO BEAT THOUSAND TO ONE POLICY GAME

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Thousands of New Yorkers were balked today in their efforts to beat a 1,000-to-1 gamble because policy racketeers, frightened by a mass police raid, were not doing business at the usual stands.

Housewives couldn't write numerals on a slip of paper and leave it with the corner grocer; elevator operators couldn't list the numbers of the first three floors at which they made stops and give the answer to a "runner." The policy collectors were not making the rounds.

Thomas E. Dewey, special rackets prosecutor, was holding 70 alleged members of a ring he said did an annual business of $5,000,000—one tenth the yearly take from the policy racket in New York.

Other rings—Dewey said there were at least two others equally as big and dozens of smaller ones—were lying low, uncertain where the lightning might strike next.

Dewey described the numbers racket as the biggest source of organized crime's slush fund, with indications aproximately 750,000 persons in New York City contribute to its regularly.

In Harlem where "the numbers" is played enthusiastically by a negro and Spanish-American population, they call the game the "poor man's lottery." Anybody having one cent or more can play it, and winners get 540 to one. For a nackel, you can get $27.

Dewey's chief captives, held under bonds of $50,000 and $20,000 respectively, were Joe Ison and Moe Weintraub. The special prosecutor charged that Weintraub was attorney for the ring, that Ison has a partner, Alexander Pompeil, who escaped, and that the pair, both of whom are West Indian negroes, had been in the business 20 years.

LEGISLATURE TAKES REST FROM LABORS; WORKED THREE DAYS

AUSTIN, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Texas lawmakers began preparations today to reinaugurate the governor and lieutenant governor Tuesday, prepared new bills and contemplated proposals submitted the first three days of the session.

The legislature adjourned yesterday for the weekend.

A joint house and senate committee worked on the inaugural program at which Supreme Court Justice John H. Sharp will administer the oaths to Gov. James V. Allred and Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul for their second terms.

The governor will make a short address at the ceremony in front of the statehouse at high noon. Mrs. R. Allred, his mother, will attend the inaugural ball and reception that night. The ball will be staged simultaneously at Gregory gymnasium of the University of Texas, the capitol and two hotels.

Legislators meanwhile concerned themselves with the governor's statement $13,000,000 in new revenue annually was needed to put the state on its feet financially.

Would Make Oil Pay and Pay

Measures submitted included one by Rep. Jasper Reed of Texarkana for a 10 cent per barrel tax on oil, a similar proposal by Rep. Clarence Farmer of Fort Worth, a bill by Rep. Herman Jones of Decatur to levy a 5 per cent net income franchise tax and Rep. Harry Graves' proposal to increase the levy on sulphur from $1.03 to $2 per ton.

In the house Speaker Bob Calvert noted 136 bills and 13 proposed constitutional amendments already introduced, readied himself for innumerable more and worked on committee appointments, which he said he would not complete until after the inauguration.

The senate's lawmaking machinery was primed for action with 62 bills and four constitutional amendments introduced, all committees appointed and only new rules of procedure awaiting adoption. The rules were in committee, the body for the present operating under old rules.

Fireworks were expected next week when Representative Graves, veteran investigator from Georgetown, presses his demand for an inquiry into disbursements of the Texas Gulf Sulphur company for public relations.

Malakoff High to Have Debate Teams In Dallas Meet

MALAKOFF, Jan. 16.—(Spl.)—Announcement has been made by Ruth Garrett, debate coach of Malakoff High school, that debating teams representing this high school will enter, February 27th, the sixth annual debate tournament sponsored by North Dallas High school, under the suspices of the National Forensic League.

O. H. Franks and J. L. Wortham constitute the boys' debating team and Martha Dee Maquire, Martha Carson, and Ruth Neal will represent Malakoff High school as the girls' debate team at this meet, which has been entered by Malakoff High school for the last three years with a high degree of success.

ADMINISTRATION IS PLANNING BODY FIX ITS POWER POLICY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—New fuel for the governmental reorganization debate developed today in authoritative reports the administration is contemplating a body to fix national electric power policy, possibly under the proposed department of public works.

President Roosevelt was represented as desiring some method of reaching a clear-cut national policy in the power field but is understood to have an open mind on the manner in which this should be done.

Significance was attached, however, to the grouping of "public works" in the permanent divisions of the executive budget for the fiscal year 1938, headed by the Tennessee Valley Authority. Previously the authority has appeared as a separate budget item.

Evidence developed also that a showdown on policy and leadership in the Tennessee Valley project is swiftly coming to a head between Chairman Arthur E. Morgan and Director David Lilienthal.

The two long have been at odds on policy.

A decision on policy in the valley—a step toward a deeper crystallization of the administration's policy on power—is necessary soon because the contract whereby the authority supplies electricity to Commonwealth and Southern Power Company expires on February 3.

Lilienthal was pictured by his friends as opposing Chairman Morgan's known ideas for a long-range, slow developing policy to avoid duplication of lines in a finish fight with private utilities.

FORMER PURDONITE DEADLY FROM FREE LINE FOR PONIES

SECOND GAME DUE SATURDAY NIGHT; OTHER TEAMS IN ACTION

DALLAS, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Southern Methodist's mustangs remained perched atop the Southwest conference basketball heap today after a 29 to 25 victory last night over the Arkansas Razorbacks, 1936 champions.

The Ponies stepped out in front with four charity shots by J. D. Norton, sophomore ace, and were never headed, holding the Porkers scoreless for the first 11 minutes. Norton found the range on each of his eight free throws and added a field goal to tie Don Lockard, Arkansas forward and the conference's leading scorer, for individual honors.

The Mustangs, with three victories and no defeats, meet the twice-beaten and once victorious Razorbacks again tonight.

In other conference games the Rice Owls meet the University of Texas Longhorns at Austin and the Texas Aggies play the Baylor Bears at Waco.

The Owls defeated the Aggies in their only previous conference start and will be favored to take the Longhorns into camp. The Steers also have a win over the Aggies but have lost to Southern Methodist and Texas Christian. Warren Osborne, flashy Longhorn forward, may be out with a leg injury.

Baylor revealed surprising strength in breaking even with Arkansas in their recent two-game series and will be favored to hand the Aggies their third consecutive trouncing.

East Texas Club Wins

DENTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—McKee scored 13 points to lead the East Texas Teachers cagers to a 34 to 29 victory over the North Texas Teachers last night.

Roosevelt Starts On Term With Less Senate Opposition

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—President Roosevelt starts his second term Wednesday with only a third of the nominal senate opposition that faced him at inauguration four years ago.

Despite his sweep in the 1932 election, Roosevelt began the new deal with 35 republican senators.

Today only 16 republicans are in the senate and four of them did not support their own presidential candidate in the last campaign.

Four years ago Senators Norris of Nebraska, La Follette of Wisconsin, the late Bronson Cutting of New Mexico, and Johnson of California, supported Roosevelt but still called themselves republicans. Norris now is lited as an "independent" and La Follette as a "progressive." Both are Roosevelt supporters.

The senate is the traditional 'thorn in the flesh" of presidents. Many diverse political philosophies are represented in the huge democratic majority. The same Roosevelt moves that won support of the western independents alienated some conservative democrats.

In the house the democrats have made relatively smaller gains over four years ago. The republican total in 1933 was 117. Today it is 88.

Governor Allred May Seek Funds Texas Projects

AUSTIN, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Governor Allred said today he might go to Washington this month or next to urge President Roosevelt to grant $15,000,000 federal funds for Texas P. W. A. and W. P. A. work.

Applications for projects involved have been filed and various communities have voted bonds or made necessary financial arrangements in some other manner. The governor would make the trip at the request of the state planning board.

"GIRL SYNDICATE" ACTIVITIES UNDER HOLLYWOOD PROBE

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Sheriff's vice squadmen hunted 22 young women today for questioning concerning the activities of a suspected Hollywood "girl syndicate."

Capt. George Contreras said the 22 were found listed in a diary which disclosed they were supplied for parties attended by film actors, directors and sports characters.

Names and addresses of those who patronized the young women were set down, Contreras said, and several are to be interrogated.

Investigation of the ring has been under way secretly for two weeks, gathering evidence for a possible grand jury morals inquiry, the officer admitted.

Two girls recently pleaded guilty to morals charges in Beverly Hills justice court and will be given a probation hearing Feb. 10.

Many of the girls, who were classified in the confiscated diary by blonde, brunette or red-haired, age and physical characteristics, have disappeared hurriedly from their apartments, deputies reported to Captain Contreras.

THREE REASONS ARE ADVANCED FOR ALL AIRLINER CRASHES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Bureau of air commerce officials said today that all the recent crashes on scheduled airlines resulted either from bad weather or mechanical or personnel failures aboard the planes.

A preliminary survey of five accidents which claimed 29 lives established definitely, they said, the bureau's safety facilities were functioning properly.

Officials added a thorough check of radio beam and weather broadcast performance at the time of the accidents showed both were emanating at the usual volume. They declined to discuss individual crashes pending completion of investigation.

THE NEW YEAR GUIDE.

GOOD RESOLUTIONS.

Miss Forbes gives you some New Year resolutions about keeping up your good looks, and a good daily routine to accomplish it.

E. K. Forbes

This new year, while we are still full of good resolutions, let us decide what we are going to do about our good looks during the next several months. Decide first what is wrong, which are the weak points, and then make a plan for self-improvement. And, most important of all, stick to it! If you can't do this, don't make any plans.

First, make a careful check-up on your diet and see if you eat or drink anything that would damage the complexion, or put thick weight on your fingers. Diet we'll discuss another day. Decide then upon the number of cosmetics you need and when you need to use them. Plan a certain type of beauty treatment, to be given at certain fixed times. And never deviate from this plan. For hap-hazard beauty treatments are about as good as none at all.

Your skin is dry and shows wrinkles. Then a daily massage with an almond oil base cream is needed and three times a week, one of those egg face masks to draw up the muscles. Your skin breaks out in tiny red marks. Well, along with more liquid in the diet, and a weekly colonic and perhaps an electric cabinet bath, you want one of the new make-up foundation creams to cover up the spots. There are a lot of them to be had and some of them are really a mixture of grease paint and cream. But none of them hurt your skin.

You are too pale and your face lacks freshness. Then you want a cream or ointment to stir the circulation. This can be put on while you soak in your bath, and wiped off and cream applied while you are drying yourself. You want more exercise too, to improve that sluggish circulation and you must change your make-up. Use more color altogether—a pinker foundation and a little more brilliance to your rouge and lipstick as well.

F. R. D.—Women who go out to business frequently look better than those whose time does not have to be arranged systematically. Taking care of one's health, and that also means the appearance, becomes one of the most important matters to women who must meet strangers every hour of the day, and always look fresh, and interested, throughout the entire working period.

Discover Burned Wreckage Missing Mexican Airliner

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The discovery of the burned wreck of a missing Mexican airliner with its nine occupants apparently killed raised to 12 today the week's loss of life in Mexican air accidents. The plane carried six passengers and a crew of three.

Three persons were found dead previously after a plane crashed near San Cristobal Las Cabas, Chiapas.

A. L. McCullough, piloting a Pan-American airliner, reported finding the ship "deep in the mountains, south of playa Vicente, totally destroyed and burned." Storm winds apparently had blown it far off its course.

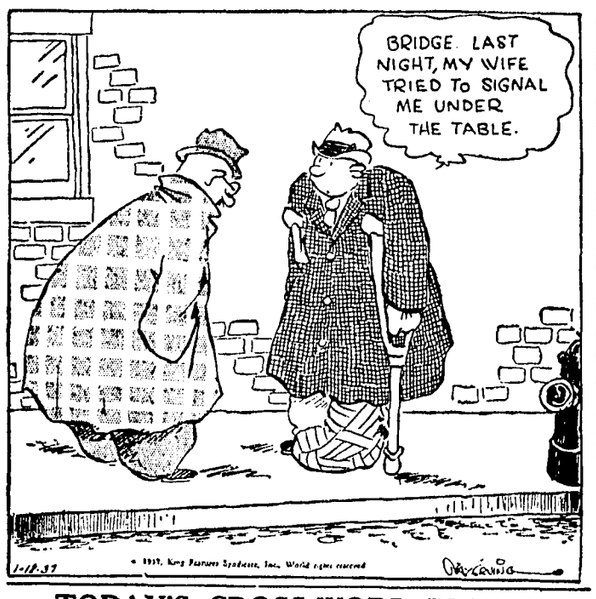

No United States citizens were aboard either craft.

PROGRESS MADE IN TICK ERADICATION WORK THIS COUNTY

A total of 2,148 cattle, 167 herds, were inspected or dipped during the month of December in Navarro county under the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas Tick eradication program. No cattle were found to be infested. This work cost the sanitary commission $196.58.

The commission is holding 24 herds and a total of 180 cattle for further systematic treatment.

New York Cotton Steady.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 3 to 7 points decline on lower Liverpool cables and under liquidation. Mch. 12.41; May 12.30; Jly 12.21; Oct 11.86; Dec 11.87.

In moderate trading prices were lower under offerings from the far east the continent and commission house and little hedging from the South.

After the call the market displayed a steadier undertone with trade buying centering in the near months and some Liverpool buying in the forward positions.

May contracts advanced from 12.29 to 12.32 and prices generally after the first half hour were up 3 to 5 points from the lows but still at net losses of 2 to 5 points.

Liverpool reported Bombay selling and liquidation of "tired" bulls which was met by trade and local buying.

The market was quiet later in the morning with price changes narrow and irregular The trade continued to take contracts in nearby positions while Japanese interests bought the forward. Contracts were still supplied principally by liquidation while there was a fair volume of exchange between various positions. May had advanced to 12.34 and was selling at that level at mid-day when the market generally was put up changed to 6 points lower. Trading in January, 1938, contracts was inaugurated, the first sale being at 11.85.

The market stayed from 2 to 3 points under previous closing levels during the morning with the volume of business light. Light hedging made up most of the selling while some price fixing supplied most of the buying.

Week-end goods markets were favorable, with sales in excess of productions. This strength in goods markets continued to be the most bullish factor underlying the market.

Heavy rains in the central and eastern belt were noted over the week-end. Temperatures were above normal, with the exception of a cold wave in the northwest.

The immediate forecasts were for continued cloudy weather with temperatures ranging from normal to below freezing in the middle belt and the east.

New Orleans Cotton Lower.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Cotton opened 3 to 5 points lower on the New Orleans market today with the volume of business limited.

Foreign markets also sold off and Liverpool reported only scattered speculative support. Bombay sold in the English market and professionals were pessimistic over the sales of loan cotton from American government holdings.

March opened at 12.37, May at 12.27, July at 12.17 and Oct. at 11.81 and then held narrowly around these levels during the morning.

While some in the domestic trade felt that the heavy expansion in cotton goods business more than discounted the impending offerings of loan cotton others were apprehensive that a dip would follow the official opening of these stocks for public consumption.

The market received a little trade support during the first half hour.

Commission houses were still bullish.

Wheat Rallies.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Sub-zero temperatures in the domestic spring wheat belt which were expected to move into winter crop territory led to late rallies of wheat values today.

Decreasing supplies of United States wheat helped check selling operations. The United States visible stock of wheat the past week was reduced 2,370,000 bushels, bringing the total down to 52,531,000, against 66,604,000 a year ago.

Emhouse defeated Navarro 25-15; Barry eliminated Rice 31-21, and Currie was handed a 2-0 forfeit from Bryan. Other games Saturday were in the boys' division with Bryan defeating Currie 39-32 and Emhouse eking out a 21-20 win over Rural Shade.

class coaches. Many of the victims were women and children.

About 50 persons were injured.

Railway officials said the fire followed explosion of a jar of sulphuric acid in a third class car jammed with passengers.

Panic gripped the trapped occupants as they tried to fight their way forward. Many were trampled to death in the struggle.

The three coaches were burned down to their steel bases before the express was halted by the engineer who saw the flaming cars as the train rounded a curve.

ment to make kidnaping a capital offense and South Dakota considered restoring capital punishment for both kidnaping and murder. Idaho legislators had before them a similar bill.

The house of the Oklahoma legislature has defeated a bill which would have repealed capital punishment.

New Hampshire, which hasn't had an execution in nearly 20 years, entertained a proposal that the gas chamber be substituted for hanging when it did have one.

The California legislature gazed at a budget calling for expenditures of $446,266,507 during the next two years.

Texas was faced with the problem of raising $13,000,000 in new revenue for social security. North Dakota has passed a bill for $500,000 emergency relief.

But the sessions were destined for their lighter moments. One will come when Ohio solons lend their ears to the selection of an official state song, a problem overlooked for 130 years.

Texans wrestled with two betting bills—one that would legalize wagers on dog races and another that would prohibit it.

Before the Iowa senate will soon come a bill to bar persons 19 or younger from theaters showing movies in which divorced actors play.

EUROPEAN

indignation over what it heard was a Spanish government decree "naturalizing" the foreigners who are fighting for Madrid.

The fascist powers did, however, indicate their desires for a new Locarno accord with Britain, France and Belgium to preserve the territorial status quo to Europe.

But that would isolate Russia, France's ally.

Fascists began the seventh month of war by claiming capture of Marbella, gateway to the government port of Malaga on the south Mediterranean coast. One of their ships tried an attack on Barcelona, on the east shore, but was driven away by coastal batteries.

The insurgents outside Madrid bombarded the city anew, but some of their number were trapped in a dynamited building at the capital's edge.

At Valencia, the Spanish government sought means to increase needed imports.

Russia's officially-inspired press charged Germany with trying to make Czechoslovakia "a second Spain" by spreading tales of "sovietization" of the intervening republic.

Authoritarian Greece borrowed millions from the nazi reich for rearmament.

Italian Officialdom Indignant.

ROME, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Official Italian circles expressed indignation today at reports the Spanish government at Valencia had naturalized foreign volunteers now fighting for Madrid.

Virgino Gayda, authoritative fascist writer, said in a Giornale D'Italia editorial:

"It is plain this naturalization is only a farce.

"It is destined to cover human contraband going to Spain, and forestall the open and clear cut proposal of Italy and Germany to remove all foreigners participating in the war."

French Destroyer Bombed.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Foreign office spokesmen said today a French destroyer was bombed in the Mediterranean by an airplane.

The attack was made on the French warship off the Spanish coast, they said, although they did not give the location or the name of the ship.

The identity of the plane was not disclosed.

The plane dropped six bombs, none of which was a direct hit, the officials asserted.

and several hundred persons attending highway commission hearings swelled the inaugural crowds.

The governor will be introduced by former Governor Pat M. Neff of Waco, president of Baylor University, and the Lieutenant governor by Sen. Will D. Pace of Tyler.

Music will be furnished by bands from the University of Texas, the Agricultural and Mechanical College and the Mexia high school.

The official program announced by a joint committee of the house of representatives and the senate said the legislature would convene for the express purpose of inauguration. Speaker Robert W. Calvert will preside.

Calvert will introduce Sen. Pace, who in turn will introduce Woodul. The lieutenant governor will be administered the oath by Associate Justice John H. Sharp of the supreme court and will make a short address.

President Neff will next introduce Allred, who also will receive the oath from Justice Sharp and then will deliver an address.

Allred to Be In Austin.

AUSTIN, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Gov. Allred positively will be in Austin tomorrow. He said so today.

At a press conference, he was asked if he would be in town.

"Let's see," he said, rolling his eyes.

"Tomorrow is Robert E. Lee's birthday, isn't it?"

Then he seemed to remember something.

"Yes," he grinned. "I positively will be in town."

He will be inaugurated for a second term at high noon.

FLOODS

ened sea walls in Missouri and Arkansas where flood conditions were acute. Many streams which broke their banks and inundated thousands of acres in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois last week renewed a climb toward flood stages.

Charles L. Blanton, WPA supervisor, termed conditions critical in Southeastern Missouri. Fresh "shock troops" joined an army of 1,500 workers, most of them WPA employes in an effort to stem the raging St. Francis river's assault on levees.

Waters rose to within six inches of the 1935 high water mark and exceeded that of 1927. Relief agencies sheltered more than 250 families.

In northeastern Arkansas the White River rose to a 30 foot stage, four feet above the flood mark. Ouachita river flood waters inundated a seven mile area in Southwestern Arkansas. Near Paragould, Ark., the St. Francis flooded some 7,000 acres and marooned a hundred homes.

New Flood Threats in South

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 18.—(AP)—Swollen rivers, fed by heavy rains, rose higher today to bring new flood threats in the south.

The great Mississippi, hemmed in by an elaborate levee system, appeared unlikely to cause serious damage. Its tributary streams, however, inundated or menaced tens of thousands of acres.

Eastern Arkansas felt the brunt of the flood yesterday when the crest of the St. Francis river moved southward from southeastern Missouri. Water poured through two large crevasses along with the river near Paragould, Ark., to flood about 8,000 acres of land and 100 homes.

Throughout nearly all east Arkansas lowlands, transportation was halted, land flooded and residents forced to higher ground.

Several counties in the north Mississippi delta faced flood threats. The Coldwater and Tallahatchie rivers, choked with rains, climbed rapidly in Tate, Quitman and Panola counties.

Sick and Convalescent.

John W. Bunch, Daily Sun proofreader, was still confined to his bed today with the flu, but was reported to be resting a little better.

PRECINCT OFFICERS WILL NOT BE PLACED UPON SALARY BASIS

The Navarro county commissioners court in special session Monday morning pased an order declining to place the justices of the peace and constables in the various precincts of the county on a salary basis, but retained the fee system for those offices.

The bond and oath of office of Ben Carroll, justice of the peace, precinct 5, Blooming Grove, was approved.

The consideration of salaries and appointment of a Navarro county hospital board was slated at the Monday afternoon session.

Julius Jacobs, representing laborers in Precinct 2 for claims, appeared before the court and discussed the proposed payment of claims made several months ago. No definite action was taken, but the matter will likely be disposed of within the near future.

Courthouse corridor gossip Monday morning was that an executive session of the court was being held in the office of Judge Paul H. Miller, but the report was dispelled by Judge Miller who stated it was merely a conference of the court and not a regular meeting. The commissioners then met at their accustomed place in regular session as usual.

AUSTIN, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Brig.-Gen. W. E. Gilmore was here today to invite Texans to attend the Golden Gate international exposition at San Francisco in 1939. The legislature planned a joint session to hear General Gilmore.

Kidnap Bill Introduced.

AUSTIN, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Rep. E. F. Harrell of Paris, a former warden of the Texas penitentiary, introduced a bill today to make the death penalty mandatory for persons who kidnap a child under 15 years old for ransom purposes.

Under existing law, the maximum penalty for kidnaping is death and the minimum five year's imprisonment.

"I am not strong for the death penalty," Harrell said, "and as warden I refused to pull the switch at electrocutions, but there is no reason why the extreme penalty should not be assessed against perpetrators of horrible child kidnapings like that of little Charles Mattson."

Thirteen other house members signed Harrell's bill.

Sales Tax Introduced.

AUSTIN, Jan. 18.—(AP)—A proposed constitutional amendment providing a two per cent sales tax to support old age pensions reached the senate today.

Authorized by Sen. L. J. Sulak of LaGrange, the resolution, similar to one introduced by Rep. Alfred Petsch of Fredericksburg in the house, would levy an occupation tax on gross retail sales and receipts of places of amusement to pay pensions up to $15 a month.

Propose Change School Pay.

AUSTIN, Jan. 18.—(AP)—A constitutional amendment to base state payments from the education fund on attendance, instead of scholastic population, will be offered in the legislature.

It will be sponsored by Rep. Eugene Worley of Shamrock, George Moffett of Chillicothe and others.

The constitution now says the available schol fund shall be distributed to counties "according to their scholastic population and applied in such manner as may be provided by law."

The amendment would merely provide for distribution "as may be provided by law." Such a provision was included in the proposed amendment authorizing free textbooks to parochial schools defeated in an election two years ago.

"We think there is stronger sentiment for it now," Worley said. "It would be fair and just."

Some counties, he said, especially those with large negro and Mexican populations, were receiving more from the available school fund than they paid in taxes.

Want Increase Resources Taxes

AUSTIN, Jan. 18.—(AP)—A bill providing for large increases in natural resource taxes hit the house hopper today. It was by Rep. Lindley G. Beckworth of Gilmer and five others.

The new rate on oil would be 8 cents a barrel, compared to the present 2 3-4 cents, and that on sulphur $2 a ton, compared to the existing $1.03.

Other proposed rates were: Dry natural gas, one-half cent per thousand cubic feet; wet gas, five per cent of value; carbon black, three per cent of value when the product is worth four cents a pound or less and five per cent of value when selling for a larger price; salt $1 per ton; marble, 15 cents a ton; cinnabar ore, 12 cents a ton; other ores, 8 cents a ton; mineral water, one cent per gallon, and mineral crystals, 5 cents a pound.

One-fourth the revenue would go to schools, one half of the remainder to old age pensions and the rest to general revenue.

Summer School Funds.

AUSTIN,, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Appropriations of $36,000 for the Texas College for Women and $19,000 for North Texas Teachers College, both at Denton, to support 1937 summer schools were asked in a bill introduced today by Sen. H. Grady Woodruff of Decatur.

Seeks Texas Tech Building.

AUSTIN, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Rep. J. Doyle Settle of Abernathy presented a bill in the legislature today intended to clear a way for financing a $100,000 student union building at Texas Technological College, Lubbock. The bill would permit Texas Tech to repay from local funds money borrowed for building purposes.

Would Give Money to Counties.

AUSTIN, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Ten members of the house of representatives, headed by Fred Mauritz of Ganado, introduced a bill today to take approximately $7,500,000 annually from the state's general fund and give it to the counties.

The bill would remit all state ad valorem taxes for the general fund for a period of five years. Counties would use the money for soil erosion prevention, flood control, irrigation and drainage, reforestation and road building.

MARITIME STRIKE

Employers Associations at Seattle, Portland, San Pedro and San Francisco.

The employers had offered the longshoremen $1 an hour for straight time work between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. and $1.50 an hour outside this period, with relief gangs to be supplied after the first six hours.

An alternative proposal stated employers would pay 95 cents an hour between 8 a. m. and 3 p. m. and $1.40 an hour outside that time, or about the same pay as before the strike began.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Negotiators struggled with major conflicts over pay for longshoremen and work hours for ship cooks and stewards as the Pacific coast maritime strike went into its eighty-first day today.

The dispute over longshore pay dimmed previous hopes of an early accord.

H. P. Melnidow, union adviser, indicated longshoremen would insist on an asserted pre-strike offer by ship-owners of $1 an hour for six specified day hours and $1.50 for other hours.

The shipowners continued negotiations with the cooks and stewards on the union's demand for an eight-hour day on passenger ships. The employers proposed nine hours of work out of any 13 "on call."

Tentative agreements have been reached with the engineers, sailors and firemen. The masters, mates and pilots and radio telegraphists were reported near agreement with owners.

GOVERNOR MARLAND RECEIVED EXTORTION LETTER SATURDAY

SAFETY OF HIMSELF AND WIFE THREATENED IF $5,000 NOT PAID

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Governor E. W. Marland declared today he had received an extortion letter written in pencil threateing the safety of himself and Mrs. Marland if he did not pay $5,000 in unmarked bills.

The governor immediately offered a $500 reward for information leading to arrest and conviction of the extortion note writer, turning the note over to the state crime bureau.

He indicated at first he would post additional guards at the governor's mansion but later declared he would be his own guard.

"I am a good pistol shot," he asserted, "and can take care of myself."

Signed "Bilk" the letter was postmarked from Oklahoma City and mailed yesterday.

Warned that unless the money was paid it will "be serious for yourself and wife," Marland was instructed to place a want ad in the personal column of the Oklahoma City News by Monday, stating "Business deal has gone through. Slim."

The letter declared Marland was being watched and warned him not "to pull any funny stuff."

Marland said he took the letter, which described him as "a wealthy man," seriously enough to take precautions at the mansion.

It was the first threatening note Marland had received since he became governor.

"If it were anyone else receiving this letter, I would offer a more substantial reward," Marland said.

"I hope anyone else receiving that kind of a letter will publish is and notify police."

He gave news men permission to photograph the letter in the hope someone might recognize the handwriting.

DANGEROUS FLOOD MENACE SUBSIDED IN FACE COLD WAVE

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The menace of dangerous floods in the Ohio and Mississippi valleys subsided today in the face of an advancing cold wave that checked protracted rains.

High water still prevented many hundreds of families from reaching homes in the lowlands and some streams continued to rise but observers said the crisis in most sections had passed.

Indiana, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Ohio and Missouri were the states harrassed by the week's floods, caused by torrential winter rains.

City and county officials at Popular Bluff, Mo., sheltered more than a hundred families who evacuated their homes. The turbulent St. Francis river ripped through levees in many spots but damage was slight and no lives were believed lost. Four National Guard companies were assigned to the Southeast Missouri flood area where many major highways were blocked.

Meteorologist W. C. Devereaux at Cincinnati predicted the Ohio river would recede after climbing near the 52 foot flood stage.

The midnight level was 51.6 but flood danger was believed averted by falling levels of tributaries.

Emergency Workers Increased.

KENNETT, Mo., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Emergency workers strengthening levees along the St. Francis river in southeast Missouri were increased to 1500 today when floodwaters of the turbulent stream threatened new inundations.

Both Charles L. Blanton, WPA supervisor, and officials of the state highway department sent reinforcements that more than doubled the crews piling sandbags and otherwise bolstering embankments against the oncoming flood crests.

Blanton, who returned to Sikeston after a survey of the flood area, said he had been informed both Wilhelmina and Glennonville, small Dunklin county communities, were completely surrounded by water.

The paper said part would be paid in cash and part in oil. Operators began moving equipment into the tract for a 8,000-foot test, the Review said.

The Review also reported the Pantanos No. 1 J. C. Engleman, Jr., flowing 75 barrels of oil from 6,666-33 feet on choke, and said the flow was increasing.

ONLY FUNDAMENTALS OF EARLY DAY INAUGURATIONS PRESIDENT UNITED STATES ARE RETAINED

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Steeped in tradition though they are, inaugurations have changed with the years. The Washington staff of the Associated Press in this sixth and last of a series of inauguration features relates some of the changes that have occurred since Andrew Jackson's Day.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's wish for a simple inauguration has shortened the official program for next Wednesday but even so he will be the center of formalities not dreamed of by his early predecessors.

For several weeks workmen have been building a reproduction of the facade of "The Hermitage" Andrew Jackson's Tennessee home place, before the White House. In the platform thus provided the President will review the inauguration parade after having taken the oath of office for his second term at the capitol.

It will be the same oath "Old Hickory" took 108 years ago and the manner of swearing it will be unchanged but only the fundamental traditions of inauguration as he knew it have been retained for modern times.

When Jackson took office Washington was a very small city. "Old Hickory" strode to the capitol on foot, his white head bare to the March chill and the applause of the multitude.

Traveling to and from the capitol by automobile, Roosevelt will move in a guard of secret service men. Administration of the oath will be carefully pre-arranged, despite the simplicity with which it is carried out. The whole nation will listen in Jackson's inauguration was followed by a party at which gallons of ice cream and orange punch were consumed. Roosevelt, in line with his wish for simplicity, will have no inauguration ball.

FORMER COLLEGE PROFESSOR BUT LATER HERMIT LODGED IN JAIL CELL FOR HIS OWN GOOD

URBANA, O., Jan. 16.—(AP)—White-bearded "G. Ora Steinberger, 85-year old artist, who quit a college professorship to become a tree-dwelling hermit, was back in civilization today, charged with vagrancy and lodged in a jail cell which he found hatefully narrow.

Officials, who sail they filed the charge "for his own good" insisted that Steinberger enter the Champaign county infirmiry but acceded to his request that he be allowed to talk first to the superintendent, Pearl Bowen.

"I want to find out something about that infirmary first," said the man who spent more than a dozen years in the wilderness, with only a tree-top hut for shelter.

"I'd like to stay there for the winter if they'll not restrict me too much, if they'l let me wander along the river banks I love."

Sheriff Jay McKeever said the vagrancy charges were a formality and would be dropped if Steinberger would consent to receive the county's care.

"He's proud," said the Sheriff. "He gets a small old-age pension, but they had to talk him into it, convince him it wasn't exactly charity. The township officials were afraid the old man could not stand the winter, so they brought him in to jail.

The hermit was an elderly man when he was stricken with tuberculosis a quarter-century ago, gave up his position as art instructor at Wittenberg College, Springfield, O., and took to the woods.

For years he lived in a tree, found his own food and drink in forest and field, and finally was pronounced cured of his ailment.

APPROACH SECOND ROOSEVELT INAUGURATION FINDS CONGRESS PLANNING LONG-TIME PROGRAM

By EDWARD J. DUFFY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The approach of the second Roosevelt inauguration, with debate centered on longtime rather than temporary legislation, presented a sharp contrast today to the call for immediate action four years ago.

The prospects were, however, that the President's second administration will be as exciting as the first.

For the first time in history the pre-inaugural atmosphere at the capitol was one of order. Instead of a "lame duck" congress rushing through its bill before adjournment, an expectant quiet prevailed.

The legislators speculated about how specifically the President would re-define his program next Wednesday—the new inauguration day.

Three actions by the President in closing his first term intensified the expectancy: The warning to the courts against "narrow" construction of the constitution, the reminder to business that budget balancing depends on re-employment and the recommendations for a sweeping reorganization of government.

The fact that Mr. Roosevelt chose to speak out vigorously before inauguration appeared to some to indicate he may amplify his viewpoint on those questions next week, after studying national reaction, in words as direct as four years ago.

At that time, with banks closing and depression rampant, he said the emergency warranted war powers for the executive. Congress readily granted all he asked in a staccato special session of 100 days.

HEARING CONDUCTED BY DISTRICT JUDGE; ANOTHER THURSDAY

A hearing in the case of B. M. McLaughlin, et al, vs. Rufus Pevehouse, sheriff, and John R. Curington, criminal district attorney, injunction, restraining the defendants from molesting, interfering with, etc., of marble machines of the plaintiffs in Navarro county, was conducted before District Judge Wayne R. Howell Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. No final orders were entered in the case and another hearing is scheduled for Thursday when additional authorities, decisions, etc., will be presented.

The plaintiffs declined to waive the customary notice on the answer and motion to dissolve filed by John R. Curington, one of the defendants, several days ago.

Attorneys for the marble machine owners presented a motion to take a non-suit and cited decisions and authorities, but the Court stated he desired additional authorities to be presented by attorneys in the case.

The plaintiffs were represented at the hearing by E. W. George and Julius C. Jacobs, while the defendants were represented by Curington and C. L. Knox, assistant criminal district attorney.

The injunction was granted several weeks ago by District Judge H. F. Kirby of the Seventy-Seventh judicial district court following the dissolution of a previous injunction by District Judge Tom J. Ball of Ellis county. The first injunction also had been granted by Judge Kirby after J. S. Callicutt, regular judge at that time in the local district court, had certified his disqualification to hear the case and motions.

Goering, air minister of the Third Reich, displayed keen interest in technical aspects of the center. Il Duce explained them to him.

Aeronautical cooperation between the two countries has been pushed with increasing enthusiasm in recent months. Each has sent experts to study the methods of the other.

WHERE THE FARMER MEETS HIS FRIENDS

"LIVE-AT-HOME" PROGRAM POPULAR NAVARRO COUNTY

NOTABLE PROGRESS BEEN MADE ACCORDING TO ANNUAL REPORT

DALLAS, Jan. 15.—(Spl.)—Navarro county farmers aided by the Resettlement Administration are making notable progress in their "live-at-home" program, D. P. Trent, regional director, stated here today following the examination of the annual Navarro county report made by Paul J. Sloan, rural supervisor.

There were 259 families receiving loans in Navarro county and 205 of them are reported to have grown sufficient vegetables for their own use despite the drought. The report showed 175 had sufficient poultry, 190 plenty of milk and butter from their own cows, and 31 making cheese. More than 20,000 quarts of vegetables and fruit were put up by their families and 9,654 pounds of meat were stored.

Tenants In Majority.

Practically all of these families are farm tenants, rather than owners, but they improved their temporary homestead by planting 51 trees, 77 shrubs, finished the walls in 156 houses and floors in 98. They made 69 mattreses and renovated 39, made 243 quilts and renovated 100.

Sloan's report was made jointly with Florence Craddock, rural supervisor of home management plans for Navarro county.

Loans totalling $111,228 were made by the Resettlement Administration to 259 families in Navarro county during 1936. Most of the amount was for teams, tools and other so-called "recoverable" goods, the remainder being spent for supplies, food, medicine, clothing, etc.

Repaying Loans.

Thirty-nine per cent of the amount loaned has already been repaid, although the loans were to run from one to five years. The state average of repayment is 26 per cent, showing the Navarro countains are repaying their loans 50 per cent better than the state average.

There are twenty-eight Navarro county borrowers who have paid their loans in full and only 21 have made no repayment. The average borrower received loans of $429.45 and has repaid $171.50.

STATE HOME LADS CONTINUE WINNING BASKETBALL GAMES

Winuning their fifth and sixth games out of seven starts this season, State Home high school's basketeers defeated Corbet and Emhouse in a double-bill Thursday evening on the Y. M. C. A. court. Emhouse went down 24-13 and Corbet bit the dust 42-6.

Friday night's game with Teague was called off on account of the bad weather, and next on the State Home's schedule is the Corsicana high school Bengal squad for Friday night, Jan. 22.

State Home's six wins, offset by only one loss during the current season gives them an impressive record, and Coach Red Clem believes he has the makings of a championship calibre team.

In both of Thursday's games Bateman topped the scoring with 16 points against Corbet and 13 against Emhouse. Hamill and Nichols came next in the Corbet game with eight each.

An Open Letter to the Employes of the TEXAS POWER & LIGHT COMPANY

TEXAS POWER & LIGHT COMPANY
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT
DALLAS, TEXAS

January 00, 1937

JOHN W. CARPENTER
PRESIDENT

To My Fellow-Workers:

For your work and valor in restoring electric service to our customers under the most trying circumstances ever witnessed in Texas, I can not adequately express my appreciation.

Your deeds, though enacted in the line of duty, are signalized by the very importance of their purpose. The comfort, convenience, and the safety of the people . . our customers . . . were definitely at stake.

As the storm's fury began to manifest itself late Saturday, my heart went out to you and your families. I knew from my own personal experience as a lineman what you were up against; and, I knew what the lonely hours of anxious waiting and prayerful hoping for your safety meant to your families. While they knew that you were trained and skilled in safety practices in your work, and that you are equipped with every safety device known to our industry, at the same time they realized that the sleet and ice created hazards against which you were at the mercy of chance.

While other people, heeding the storm warnings, were "housing in" for comfort, safety and companionship, you went forth, unheralded, to battle the ice and sleet to maintain our service so that our customers might more fully enjoy "comfort, safety and companionship."

Nature contrived, through this storm, a terrible test for you. You met this test in a manner that makes my heart swell with pride in my association with you. No one knows better than I what that 96-hour stretch of toil and exposure meant to you . . numb with cold and exhaustion, your nerves worn to the quick . . you carried on without thought of self, without flinching or turning back.

Thus you have lived up to our slogan, "Service First." This slogan was adopted by our company when it was first organized twenty-five years ago. It has expressed our purpose through all these years. I know that it rang clear in your minds as you battled your way through all the hindrances Nature threw against you in this crisis . . to the single end of restoring and maintaining service to our customers just as quickly as possible.

I feel I can assure you that our customers join me in my pleasure at this privilege of thus publicly citing you for your deeds of valor and service. I extend to you my deepest appreciation.

Most sincerely yours,

John W. Carpenter

President and General Manager.
